TOP 125

Operational excellence and culture transformation are lofty goals. But training can play a big part in an organization attaining them, as Verizon can attest: Verizon Lean Six Sigma (VLSS) helped earn the telecom the No. 1 spot on the Training Top 125 for the second year in a row. Despite some belt-tightening, Top 125ers still dedicated a mean of 4.58 percent of their payroll to the training budget. Some 25 newcomers earned a spot on the list this year, the 13th in a row Training has ranked the top companies of employer-sponsored workforce training and development.

Each Top 125 company was measured on quantitative (70 percent of total score) and qualitative (30 percent of total score) data. Factors influencing the rankings include: Training tied to business objectives • Demonstrable results • Number of trainers • Employee turnover and retention • Leadership development • Tuition assistance • Training technology and infrastructure • Certification • Training budget and percentage of payroll. And much, much more. An outside research and statistical data company, under the guidance of Training magazine, scored companies on this data supplied by applicants. Then, our editors and the Training Top 10 Hall of Famers qualitatively reviewed the applications.

Best Practices and Outstanding Training Initiatives also are recognized in this issue (beginning on p. 100). Learn about BB&T Corporation's Leadership Development Program; United States Navy's Information Technology of the Future; Best Buy's Path to Excellence; and more. Plus, we recognize the achievements and learning legacy of Ernst & Young's Mike Hamilton, the first Training Top 10 Hall of Fame representative set to retire later this year (see p. 52). Congratulations to this year's Training Top 125!

1	1	Verizon Basking Ridge, NJ Technology	$111B Global	188,000 Global	1,571/297/6,168	NFP	NFP	Yes	Yes	Verizon Customer service representatives have access to funds so they can do the right thing for Verizon customers when service recovery is required. In 2012, one call center's discretionary customer credits needed reduction. L&D created the Deal Makers game to help solve the issue. Designed as a barter system, representatives were provided a play money fund to safeguard. Representatives were evaluated week-over-week on their discretionary credit spending. If they increased discretionary spending, funds were subtracted; if they decreased spending, funds were added. After four weeks, representatives used any remaining funds to negotiate for prizes. Results: Year on year, a 14 percent discretionary credit decrease.
2	12	Jiffy Lube International Houston, TX Retail	NFP	20,500 U.S.	25/6,000/50	NFP	NFP	Yes	Yes	Jiffy Lube International Jiffy Lube implemented a customer choice initiative, the Jiffy Lube Oil Change Schedule, in which the oil change schedule is customized for the customer's vehicle and driving conditions. An e-learning lesson was developed to teach customer service advisors how to talk about the Oil Change Schedule choices with the customer. It was distributed electronically in waves to pilot and test service centers in advance of the program implementation. The e-learning program provided a foundation for training sessions delivered by JLI and franchisee trainers. More than 90 percent of the stores in the Jiffy Lube network have adopted this initiative.

In PACE role-playing, learners choose the scenario, write the description, and apply newly learned skills to their own coaching situation. The description is given to a peer who is already familiar with the work environment to serve as a role-play partner. Both preparation and application are reinforced immediately with learning that is applicable to the learner's individual situation, thus increasing value and retention. This approach has resulted in increased management quality scores in the Sprint Employee Survey for Sprint Business.

Members of the Succession Planning group interview both the manager and the employee to determine if coaching is appropriate. Succession Planning completes a search for potential coaches and provides recommendations to the employee and manager. The employee and manager then interview potential coaches and mutually agree on the person best qualified to assist the employee.

Supporting the move to teleworking required a shift from classroom to virtual delivery for many Aetna programs. New employee training for new Provider Service Center Customer Service Representatives runs 16 weeks and traditionally had been delivered in live classroom settings. In sites where a live trainer was not located on-site, the organization used to pay for the trainer's travel and associated costs (a 16-week training session could cost upward of $27,000). Aetna invested in transforming all content and securing needed technology to conduct these classes virtually. Since moving to virtual training, the associated costs for the same training run approximately $3,000.

81	97	AAA - The Auto Club Group Dearborn, MI Real Estate/Insurance	NFP	4,800 U.S.	NFP/NFP/NFP	NFP	NFP	Yes	Yes	AAA - The Auto Club Group The company developed and launched a multifaceted approach to customer care in 2010, with implementation continuing in 2011. It began with training the field organization on a refreshed customer care model. This training was conducted via e-learning and instructor-led sessions. The second facet of this training involved periodic "best practices" training. In 2011, the company developed a live meeting program for travel agents and member representatives to enhance their skills when dealing with members. Concurrently, management performance observation and evaluation guidelines were established, and a reporting system was developed to help managers track employees' use of the refreshed customer care model.

Mentees can select their mentor from a list of available mentors; an online system tracks the mentee's development. The CREATE Program creates and provides a framework for mentoring participants on high-impact roles such as account manager and solution architect by recognized practitioners and business leaders. CREATE participants have won back business on 2 accounts, converted 1 deal, and are playing lead roles in 3 programs onsite.
90	96	Century 21 Real Estate LLC Parsippany, NJ Real Estate/Insurance	NFP	143 Global	NFP/NFP/NFP	NFP	6.00	Yes	Yes	Century 21 Real Estate LLC Century 21 has incorporated the use of virtual role-playing through its social media training. Using a beta-site, participants interact with a virtual trainer who offers feedback on posts and content. The beta site also provides peer-to-peer feedback on the level of interest and quality of posts. This type of facilitated social media role-playing offers users an opportunity to safely become comfortable with social media. Initial results are that within the first 3 months (of a 6-month-long program), participants closed their first side of business solely from meeting, engaging, and selling through social media platforms once they applied the techniques from their classes on their profiles.

It creates the opportunity to learn directly from peers; engage leadership in learning more about VSP's business and strategies; and is an extension of VSP's Open Door policy, which empowers employees to open a conversation with anybody at any level in the organization. Recent employee-generated topics include technology developments that impact VSP's business, conversations about its culture, and tips on better navigating its systems. The VSPwiki is a primary way through which departments share information and department-specific trainings with peers. The IT department is a heavy user of the VSPwiki, leveraging it for projects, communication, and basic technical training.
107	112	White Lodging Services Merrillville, IN Hospitality	NFP	8,000 U.S.	3/1/60	NFP	10.00	Yes	Yes	White Lodging Services Executive Flight School is a 3-day session where executives from around the country come to the home office for discussion/presentations by senior leadership. Part of their process is a live simulation working with one of White Lodging's hotels. They then must do a critique of the hotel and put together a strategic plan for improvement. The capstone of this workshop is a presentation to two senior leaders (VP or above) acting as "owners." Presentation involves feedback from the "owners" and the creation of a Personal Development Plan to work on areas of opportunity.

These meetings are facilitated by the project superintendents or safety professionals. Craftsmen involvement is required through demonstrations, question/answer discussions, or shared experiences. Daily Crew Planning is a relatively new addition to Haskell safety training efforts. Each day, prior to starting any activities, members of the work crew huddle to plan, discuss, and evaluate the task before them. They identify roles/responsibilities, skill sets, equipment needs, and safety hazards. Upon completion of this crew-developed plan, each crew member documents his or her participation and understanding.

NYCB recently went through a major system integration combining the operating system used in the New York and New Jersey branches with branches in Ohio, Florida, and Arizona. ED&T played a major role in the conversion, preparing training and practice documentation, initially traveling to the 3 states to train employees on the new system and offering support during the practice and initial go-live days. ED&T facilitated more than 67 System Conversion, Supervisor Conversion, Teller Refresher Conversion, and Platform Refresher Conversion classes covering 613-plus employees.
114	*	Mountain America Credit Union West Jordan, UT Finance/Banking	NFP	1,164 U.S.	13/9/16	NFP	3.94	Yes	Yes	Mountain America Credit Union MACU implemented a new loan origination system that required training approximately 300 employees. To avoid leaving branches short-staffed and sacrificing quality service during this training effort, MACU decided to implement an instructor-led class requiring a 2-day program for "branch champions." Next, MACU provided a 1-day class for the remaining loan officers on the basics of the system. It was offered at corporate headquarters, regional training centers, and via Webinar. This class was supplemented by on-the-job training by the branch champions. Bolstered by the training, the system has reduced the amount of time required to open a new account from 30 to 45 minutes to 5 to 10 minutes.

During the week, an instructor-led classroom session is delivered regarding LQ's social networking/peer-to-peer site Connect Online. Managers participate in several simulation exercises during the Product Quality day. The first simulation exercise is demonstrating the room cleaning process, followed by a property Safety Inspection simulation. During the Revenue Management session, managers apply their knowledge by completing a hotel case study. Participants also complete a self-study time management profile in preparation for the Time Management session.
